Appomattox and Buckingham Times, 25 May 1893

"Charles H. Sweeney had a contract for star route, Nebraska (Appomattox Station) to Wildway, Appomattox Co, VA."

General Robert E. Lee was staying in the home of Charles Sweeney during the period April 8-11, 1865. While having supper a courier came in and told him that the railroads at Lynchburg and Appomattox had fallen. Lee got a piece of brown paper and sent Grant a note requesting him to meet with him under the Apple tree in the Sweeney yard to discuss the terms for surrender.

Notes for Mattie Jane Bryant:

Appomattox County Historical Society - Sweeney family file notes.....

As a bride, while her husband was fighting under Gen. Lee, Mrs. Sweeney was living in the little cottage when Lee surrendered to Grant 9 April 1865.
